We discussed about how Malaysia should look at the Netherlands for university education, as the universities here have so much to offer, not just in terms of knowledge and skills but also in terms of producing graduates who are holistic and able to apply what they have learned into innovative solutions.

Appointment of Professor Dr Adrian David Cheok as UTM Adjunct Professor. Professor Adrian heads The Imagineering Institute, which is a new research lab with the vision "Invent the Future of Internet". Four UTM doctoral students were also awarded the Imagineering Institute PhD Scholar Awards.

Imagineering Institute is a collaboration with City University London, Osaka University Japan, Universiti Teknologi Malaysia (UTM), and Multimedia University (MMU). Imagineering Institute (IDM Lab Sdn Bhd) is the first independent multi-disciplinary internet and digital media research & development (R&D) institute. It is the first research lab in Iskandar Puteri, focusing on internet, digital media, and mixed reality research, while providing an entrepreneurial incubation space for start-ups. The imaginative application of engineering sciences or Imagineering is done in the lab.

Professor Adrian David Cheok, who was born and raised in Adelaide, South Australia, graduated from the University of Adelaide with a Bachelor of Engineering (Electrical and Electronic) with First Class Honors in 1992 and an Engineering PhD in 1998.[2] His mother was born in Prespa, in the West Macedonia region of Northern Greece and his father was born in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia.

Professorial Inaugural Lecture Series

Process Integration promotes symbiosis and synergy by maximising resource utilisation efficiency and minimising wastes among interacting processes, industry and systems.

In this lecture, state-of-the-art Process Integration techniques developed by researchers from Process Systems Engineering Centre (PROSPECT), Universiti Teknologi Malaysia will be highlighted.

The talk focuses on the successful industrial implementation of systematic PI solutions to minimise consumption of resources such as energy, water, gas, solvents, CO₂ and solid wastes.

Among the prominent highlights include implementation and impact on the use of this technique to maximise utility savings and minimise capital and operating costs that resulted in annual cost savings of up to USD12 Million for an oil refinery, and a USD3.4 Million energy savings for a middle distillate synthesis (MDS) plant.

Researchers, students, and industry players are all welcome.
